

Preliminary Injunction Response

March 17, 2011

Mr. Tom Gilroy, a news reporter called the Plaintiffs for a response to the Department of Justice Press Release. The following is the answer to him. His contact information is at the end of the reply.

The Plaintiff's commentary is in CAPITAL LETTERS.

WASHINGTON – A federal court has issued a preliminary injunction barring Gwenn Wycoff and Frank Ozak, both of Los Angeles, from promoting so-called “common-law trusts” that help individuals evade taxes, the Justice Department announced today. The injunction order, entered by U.S. District Judge Jacqueline H. Nguyen of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California, will remain in effect while the government’s lawsuit seeking a permanent injunction is pending.

GWENN H. WYCOFF AND FRANK C. OZAK WORKED FOR THE KENZINGTON FUND TRUST TO EDUCATE PEOPLE HOW TO ADMINISTER THEIR FAMILY TRUST. IT HAS NEVER BEEN PROVEN THAT ANY OF THE TRUSTS ASSEMBLED WERE FRAUDULENT, NOR ANY OF THE TRUST ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION FALSE.

In granting the preliminary injunction, the court found that Wycoff and Ozak promote their scheme through personal appearances, a website and a self-published two-volume work they wrote with others called The Art of Passing the Buck, which contains false statements about the internal revenue laws.

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HAS NEVER PROVEN ANY STATEMENTS IN THE ART OF PASSING THE BUCK ARE FRAUDULENT, ALTHOUGH THEY CLAIM ONLY ONE STATEMENT IS IN ERROR. FAILING TO PROVE IT, OR SUBMIT ANY COUNTER EVIDENCE, THE MATTER REMAINS UNRESOLVED.

MS WYCOFF AND MR. OZAK PROMOTE THE SALE OF A BOOK, AND DO NOT PROMOTE ANY SCHEME. NEITHER OF THEM WROTE THE BOOK, AND HAVE NO LEGAL OWNERSHIP IN THE TRUST OWNING THE BOOK. MS. WYCOFF AND MR. OZAK DO NOT RUN OR OPERATE THE WEBSITE. ANY SEARCH THROUGH THE ENTIRE WEBSITE REVEALS THERE IS NOTHING ABOUT TAXES, EXCEPT A DIRECT QUOTE FROM AN IRS COMMISSIONER ABOUT THE PURPOSE OF TAXATION: TO ENSURE EVERY GENERATION MUST BEGIN OVER.
